Tornado Loses Henry.

Chicago-Record-Herald April 5th: Western department offices were overwhelmed with tornado losses last week. One alone got over 300 notices of loss and hired every independent adjuster it could find to settle them up quickly. Several run above $1,000, but the majority averaged below $40. Protection costs $1.00 per $1,000 insurance for three years.

POWER FOR MARSHFIELD

Consolidated Water Power Co. May Deliver That City Twelve Hundred Horse Power if Acceptable.

Banker R. L. Kraus of Marshfield was in the city on Friday looking after some business matters, and during his stay here a reporter for the Tribune interviewed him on the matter of the proposed transmission of power from this city to Marshfield.

Mr. Kraus stated that he had made a proposition to the city of Marshfield and that the matter was under consideration by them, and that if it was accepted the work of getting ready to deliver the necessary current would commence as soon as possible.

The plan proposed to follow would be to put in a large storage battery at Marshfield, and with the aid of this be able to handle the varying load that would necessarily fall on a plant of this size. Mr. Kraus has made a proposition to the city of Marshfield to furnish them current at the rate of a cent a thousand watts, and he says that where a person or factory uses a large amount of current it can be furnished considerably less than this figure.

The people of Marshfield have been paying an exorbitant price for electricity, owing partly to the fact that the plant there is greatly out of date, and as a consequence the rates proposed would be a great reduction. They have never had the advantage of a day current, so that it was impossible for the people to use electricity in any shape for power.

Mr. Kraus has an option on 700 horse power, with a privilege of 500 more in case he should need it, so it would give the people there 1200 horse power. This amount is of course largely in excess of what they have ever used, but it is the opinion of many that a great many people who use small power would go to the use of electricity as soon as it could be demonstrated to them that it was cheaper than the old method. What ever it happened to be.

It is the idea of Mr. Kraus to organize a stock company if the city accepts his proposition and fix the matter so that people of Marshfield can have access to the nearest power there is at a cost that will be within the reach of all.

Twenty six miles seems a long way to transmit electrical power, but there are places in the country where this distance has been greatly exceeded, and the plan has been successful and has been in use for years, so there is no question but what this part of the plan would be successful. The cost of erecting the line for transmission and the installation of a storage battery are two costly items, and might be the only things that would scare out investors in the scheme.

If the plan is carried thru it would prove a very great convenience for the city of Marshfield, and no doubt the city would be greatly benefited from the fact that there would be cheap power accessible for small plants of any kind.

Mr. Kraus also stated that a committee had been appointed by the citizens of Marshfield to visit places where power was used in a similar manner to discover how the price compared with the charges in these places. The report of this committee will have quite a bearing on the matter and it is thought that it will be a favorable one, as the price asked for electricity is lower than is charged in many places where it is used to a large extent.

A Good Temperance Lecture.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, a large audience greeted Miss Jessie M. Garvin at the Union Temperance meeting held in the M. E. church last Sunday evening.

Miss Garvin is one of the State organizers and spoke under the auspices of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union. The address was entertaining, convincing and logical—the thought of individual responsibility was well brought out. A part of the time was devoted to proving the unreasonableness of licensing crime and the fallacy of high license. "Thou shalt not steal" and "thou shalt not kill" are the laws still against liquor sellers, which were given many centuries ago.

In the latter part of the address, Miss Garvin made a plea to the young women to use their influence in the right way. The laws of society are wrong which allows the young man to sow his wild oats. There must be one standard of pure and right living for both sexes. The thought, "Whatsoever a man sows that shall he also reap," was brought out clearly. The music by the church choir under leadership of Mr. Sam Jackson was much appreciated.

Kruger-Witt.

At 2:30 today at the Moravian church, occurred the wedding of Fred Kruger and Miss Edith Witt, Rev. Mellicke officiating. The groom was attended by Charles Thum and the bride by her sister, Miss Amanda Witt. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Kruger of the East Side and the bride a daughter of Albert Witt, Miller at the Grand Rapids Milling Co. Both were brought up in this city where they have a large circle of friends. After the wedding a supper was served at the home of the bride. They left on the evening train for Merrill for a short wedding trip after which they will make their home with the groom's parents. The Tribune wishes the young couple a happy journey thru life.

High School Wins at Base Ball.

The first baseball game of the season was played on the high school campus on Saturday afternoon between the Grand Rapids high school team and the nine from the Needham high school. It resulted in a victory for the Grand Rapids team by a score of 11 to 10 and it was necessary to play ten innings to decide the game, as the score was a tie at the close of the ninth inning.

The game was a hotly contested one, and the crowd in attendance was not large the audience was an enthusiastic one and no chance was omitted to cheer the favorites on to victory. Considering that it was the first game of the season the boys did very well and give promise of doing some good work along this line.

Raising Angora Goats.

Last February F. MacKinnon received six Angora goats which he placed on his farm up the river and he now has six kids, which are about four weeks old and are very handsome little fellows. The goats are all registered stock, and they do not present a very handsome appearance at the present time, owing to the fact that they were but recently clipped, they are quite a pretty animal when in full feather. During a talk with Alexander Moore, who has charge of Mr. MacKinnon's farm, that gentleman stated that he had clipped twenty-one pounds of mohair from the goats this spring. He stated, however, that this was no criterion of the amount the goats would produce, as they had been left to run until they had shed a portion of their hair. There is not enough of the mohair produced in this region at the present time to make a regular market for it, the large quantities of it annually. The price per pound depends entirely upon the quality of the product, varying from thirty to fifty cents a pound. It has been stated that the goats will live and thrive in places where almost any other farm animal would starve to death, and if this is a fact it would seem as if there were many partially cleared places in Wood county that might be turned to profit by placing a herd of these animals.

Division Point Changed.

Wausau Record: Arrangements have been made whereby after next Monday all freight crews on this division of the St. Paul will be "laid up" at Wausau. In other words Wausau is hereafter to be the freight division of the Wisconsin division. This will bring four more train crews here from Babcock, a total of about twenty-two employees. Several of them have families and the total will be an increase of population of about forty persons.

The change will also bring merchandise freight to Wausau from Milwaukee and Chicago about twenty-four hours earlier than formerly, it not being "laid up" at Babcock.

It is evident the St. Paul people are disposed to do much for Wausau, a condition which should be fully appreciated.

Funeral of Frank Keltner.

The funeral of Frank Keltner was held in this city on Sunday, the remains being interred in the Forest Hill cemetery, Rev. Shaw conducting the services.

Altho Mr. Keltner has made every effort possible to discover some of the particulars concerning the death of his son, up to the present time nothing has been heard. One would think that in a city where a man was working with enough charity in his heart to take the trouble to write a few lines explaining the cause of the young man's death, but it seems that Salt Lake City is an exception to the general rule. Letters have been written there, however, and the family still hope to hear some thing definite concerning the matter.

Decoration Day.

The members of the G. A. R. post of this city are preparing to observe decoration day in this city in a fitting manner. They will march to the cemetery in the morning and decorate the graves and hold the usual services, after which they will return to the city and attend dinner in the G. A. R. hall, which will be served by the members of the Woman's relief corps to the general public.

After dinner there will be a program in the opera house with speaking and appropriate singing, to which an invitation will be extended to the general public to attend. Rev. Mellicke of the First Moravian church will deliver the oration of the day, and will probably be supplemented by others.

Settled With Adjusters.

The adjusters were here last week and settled the loss on the Wood block and the contents that were damaged by fire recently. The loss on the building was estimated by Architect Billmeyer at $52, which claim the adjuster allowed.

The loss on the stock and fixtures in the Wood County drug store was adjusted at $1150, of which $900 was on the stock and $250 on the fixtures. Mr. Voss estimates that this does not cover the loss by fully $500, but as $900 insurance was all that was carried on the stock, it was the best that could be done.

Paid Fine and Left.

Mrs. Nic. Wisnietz was arrested last week on a charge of prostitution and taken before Justice Cooper. The justice made it ten dollars and costs, which the woman skirmished and cost, and secured, after which she left the city. This was rather an unusual case as the woman is the mother of four small children, and it made it pretty hard to confine her in the county jail, even if she was not able to secure the money to pay her fine. The city authorities feel that there is a load off their mind in getting rid of the family.

Death of Mrs. Herros.

Mrs. John Herros, an old resident of the eastern part of the city, died at her home on Wednesday evening of last week at the age of 74 years. She had been in her usual good health up to a short time before her death, which came very suddenly. The funeral was held on Saturday from the Catholic church, Rev. F. Van Roosmalen officiating. Mrs. Herros had long been a resident of this community, being a native of Ireland.

WILL HAVE NO COMMISSION.

Equalization Matter Settled at Co. Board Meeting.

At the meeting of the county board there was one matter disposed of that will prove a good thing for every person in the county who has any taxes to pay. That was the refunding of the money to Marshfield collected on account of the extra $100,000 that the county board tacked onto the valuation up there.

When the board put up the valuation of Marshfield nothing was said as to where the extra valuation should be put, whether on the real estate or personal property, and the consequence was that the supervisor of assessment had it divided pro rata between the personal property and the real estate. The consequence was that if a commission had been appointed to review the assessment they would have had to go over the real and personal property both of the county, a process that would cost a whole lot of money, so that both sides were ready and anxious to compromise.

Of course the extra $100,000 should not have been added to the valuation of Marshfield in the first place, and every member of the county board who is gifted with enough brains to be able to distinguish between right and wrong is aware of the fact, but the desire of the farmer to get back at the city chap was so strong that they were willing to side with either end of the county in order to accomplish this end.

At the meeting of the board it was voted to return to the city of Marshfield the sum of $301.00, which was the amount that the difference in valuation made to that city. It is a noteworthy fact that after all the dispute is over and the thing settled on an amicable basis that the figures that have been used are those of the supervisor of assessment. Notwithstanding the fact that it has been claimed time and again that the office was a wholly useless one, the figures that have been compiled by that officer are the only ones that amount to anything as a basis to figure on.

The members of the county board are to be complimented on the manner in which they came to their decision and adjusted the tax matter without additional cost to the county, and now they will do their constituents a great favor if they will continue to conduct the affairs of the county in just this manner. Bring in a little of the sense of the golden rule to govern their actions and the entire public will be the gainer. The practice of sharp methods are not what the people want. They want the members of the county board to meet, transact the business of the county in the same manner that an ordinary business man does his affairs, and then adjourn and return to their homes without tacking on any extra fee for the benefit of their individual town and the detriment of the public at large.

Rumors of Better Service.

Merrill News: If the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad Co. will carry out the plans as they are reported, the company's patrons on the Valley division will have nothing to "kick" about in the way of train service in the future. Whether the change will or will not be made, cannot be stated for a positive certainty at this time.

It is reported that a new through train will be placed on this division shortly, running from Milwaukee to Milwaukee. The train will have dining, parlor and chair cars and will be as good a train as the company runs on the main line. The train will only stop at the larger cities and will make fast time. It is expected that at least two hours will be cut off of the running time between Tomahawk and New Lisbon.

It will be necessary to make some improvements on the road bed in order that the fast schedule may be maintained. To do this it is reported that the company will put three construction crews at reducing grades and ballasting the track.

The News gets its information for the above from a responsible railroad official of this division. On interviewing Station Agent A. J. Price Monday he stated that "it was news to him, but that maybe such a thing would transpire after the next train." The proposed change in train service would greatly facilitate passenger traffic on this division. During the summer months it would be used by the tourist and fishing parties. It would give the patrons a chance to make better time to Milwaukee and do away with all delay along the line.

Death of Bert McLaughlin.

Word was received in this city on Monday that Bert McLaughlin had been killed at Bruce on the case. At that time no particulars of the disaster were received, but his father left this city for Bruce immediately to bring the body to this city.

Young McLaughlin was 27 years of age and was well known in this city being a graduate of our high school, being one of the class of '02. The remains were brought to this city Monday night, Paul Love and his brother, George McLaughlin, coming down.

So far as can be learned, nobody witnessed the accident by which the young man lost his life, but he was engaged in making a coupling between the engine and one of the cars used for logging purposes. The coupling is made by means of a bar several feet in length, and whether this slipped and struck him as whether he fell and the bar struck him after, we do not know. The bar did strike him, however, and puncturing his body, inflicted fatal injuries from which he died in a very short time.

Bert is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin of this city, and was a young man of good habits and well liked by his associates. His many friends here were greatly shocked to hear of his death on Monday, and his parents have the sympathy of all in their affliction.

The funeral occurred this morning from the Catholic church, Father Van Roosmalen conducting the services.

Republicans in Session.

The republican convention for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention was held in this city yesterday. There was a good representation from the different precincts of the county, and the following delegates were elected to go to the state convention at Madison which opens on the 18th instant:

W. D. Connor, E. E. Wuch, O. G. Lindeman, Robert Connor, and E. M. Donding of Marshfield, H. Wippenberg, O. T. Hoogen, C. W. Davis, G. W. Paulus, and P. J. Wagner of the city, P. N. Christensen of Lenoire, Thos. Sherman and Carl Kurtz of Pittsville. The delegation is strongly in favor of the renomination of the present governor.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Hooper, Metcalfe and Lindeman was appointed to draw up resolutions of respect regarding the late Frank A. Gady.

W. D. Connor was chairman of the meeting and G. W. Paulus secretary.

Sold Whiskey to an Indian.

On Saturday William Kruger was arrested for selling whiskey to an Indian and it cost him $25.00 to pay the fine and costs connected with the transaction.

The Indian who had indulged too freely in the white man's fire water was William McPherson, of the Omaha reservation. He was arrested on Thursday in an intoxicated condition and when he had sobered off next morning he consented to tell where he had secured his booze.

It is unusual for an Indian to tell who has sold him liquor, as they realize that it will be hard for them to secure whiskey if there is any chance of the person who sold it being found out, but this fellow labored under the impression that he would have to spend thirty days in jail if he did not tell, so he gave the whole thing away.

A Nice Entertainment.

Those who attended the entertainment at the Lincoln high school last Saturday evening were held in the thrall of the manner in which the little ones acquitted themselves, and the exceptional familiarity they displayed with their parts.

The entertainment was in the form of a cantata, and was under the supervision of Miss Reeves, and it served well to illustrate what could be done with the younger pupils in the line of music provided a little care is taken with their education in this line. The name of the cantata was "A Myrtle Hour," and the excellent training of the children made it one of the best school entertainments that has been held in the city. There was a large crowd in attendance.

Given a Change of Venue.

On Monday Judge Webb granted a change of venue to Frank Judick, the Marshfield man who has been under arrest since last January on a charge of rape, and the case will be tried in Juneau county. Judick seemed to think that the people of Wood county were prejudiced against him, and it was on this plea that the change of venue was granted. Cochran & Pump are attorneys for the defendant and District Attorney Brazee represents the state's interests.
